LIFE EBBING AWAY.

The Physicians Entertain Scarcely Any Hope of Recovery of Pope Leo XIII.

MONSIGNOR VOLPANI STRICKEN.

Wednesday Morning the Aged Pontiff Left His Bed Unaided and Seated Himself in an Arm Chair.

Official Bulletins Given Out Are Very Contradictory in Their Nature—It Is Thought the Doctors Misjudged the Disease.

BULLETIN.

London, July 9.—A dispatch to the Central News from Rome, timed 9 o'clock Thursday morning, says all is quiet at the vatican. Though the pope had six hours sleep he passed a restless night. A consultation will be held Thursday morning, the dispatch adds, between Drs. Laponi and Mazzoni and a specialist who has been summoned.

Rome, July 9.—The life of Pope Leo continues to hang by a thread with the expectation that any moment may bring the end. Yet the wonderful vitality of the remarkable old man is combating a complication of diseases which would endanger a strong man in the prime of life. It appears that every one in the vatican is obliged to give way to overpowering fatigue, so much more tranquil is it in the palace than outside, people still congregating on the piazza of St. Peter's. The corner of the palace which remained lighted the longest was the apartment of Cardinal Rampolla, where the lights were extinguished only a short time after those in the room where Mgr. Volpani, one of the pontiff's most intimate friends, is lying in a serious condition as a result of the attack of syncope that he suffered Wednesday. Pope Leo, as though he had second sight, has asked several times why Mgr. Volpani had not been to see him. Naturally, the condition of Mgr. Volpani has been kept from the pope.

Fears and Hopes Alternated.

Throughout Wednesday the reports from the sick room alternated with fears and hopes. At times rumors of the gravest character gained currency. During the night the pope had secured little refreshing sleep and with this sleeplessness was augmented depression. The difficulty in breathing had increased and a derangement of the kidneys began to manifest itself. These complications were fully and frankly stated by the doctors. Their official bulletin was supplemented in the course of personal conversation in which they showed that they entertained scarcely any hopes of recovery. Yet they always qualified their statements setting forth the remarkable constitutional strength and energy of the patient as the most striking evidence of his almost superhuman will.

A MAN OF IRON WILL.

The Attending Physicians Have Trouble in Restraining the Pope.

They instanced the dying man's leaving his bed during the morning and taking several steps, unaided save by a cane, to an arm chair. When this became known many were disposed to criticize the doctors for permitting such an exhausting effort, but it was explained that the entire absence of fever, the temperature being even below normal, eliminated the danger of syncope from this exertion. Moreover the attending physicians recognized that they were battling with a man of iron will who does not know the meaning of restraint.

Fortunately all the climatic conditions in Rome for the time being are favorable to the sufferer. The air is deliciously cool and there is complete absence of the enervating sirocco, which depresses and kills. The bright sunshine streams into the papal apartment. The encouraging conditions are further augmented by the constant use of artificial means of exhilaration, including steady supplies of oxygen.

Alarmists' Reports Contradicted.

The later official bulletin following a consultation between Drs. Laponi and Mazzoni, completely contradicted the alarmist reports and gave a most favorable statement. This was disclosed in the improved pulse, better respiration and ameliorated general condition. Dr. Mazzoni said in a conversation following the issuance of the 8:15 p. m. bulletin that while the pope's condition still continued desperate, recovery was not entirely impossible. Unfortunately some elements in the population of Rome, including a few who are high in the councils of the vatican, are inclined to cast doubt on the sincerity of the bulletins. This led, during the day to a strong movement in favor of calling other physicians. The theory of the initiators of this movement was that Drs. Laponi and Mazzoni had misjudged the disease, taking for pneumonia what was really pleurisy. Both accepted the idea of a consultation with any of their colleagues. Many eminent specialists have been proposed, but it was said late in the night that it had practically been determined that Dr. Rossini should be called if another consultation was decided on. However, Dr. Mazzoni said that in his opinion there was no immediate need of a consultation and that one would not be called if another consultation was decided on. However, Dr. Mazzoni said that in his opinion there was no immediate need unless the present conditions changed.

IN O'BRIEN'S CELL.

Six Steel Saws Were Found By Jailor Wallace and Deputy.

Lexington, Ky., July 9.—While searching the prison cell occupied by Claude O'Brien, the doomed murderer of A. B. Chinn, preparatory to placing the death watch over him, Jailor Wallace and his deputy, William Thorn, discovered six finely tempered steel saws, which had been smuggled into the cell in some mysterious manner, and with which an evident jail delivery was contemplated.

The saws were found hidden in different places, two being on the inside of his pillow, which had been carefully sewed together again; one under a covering in the cell bunk, two in a metal box and one concealed in the bosom of his shirt.

The prisoner, with his accomplice in the crime, Earl Whitney, is to be hanged July 24, Gov. Beckham having refused to interfere with the process of the law. This is the second time that steel saws have been sent to the jail for O'Brien. The first were in a newspaper sent to O'Brien from Memphis through the mails. This set never reached the cell.

KENTUCKY COUNTY ATTORNEYS.

They Held Their Third Annual Convention at Dawson.

Dawson, Ky., July 9.—The third annual session of the Kentucky County Attorneys' association was called to order by President S. C. Molloy, of Kuttawa, Ky., in the New Century hotel at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening. The subjects discussed were paupers and pauper claims, delinquent list and land sales for taxes, court houses and the public buildings.

About 50 attorneys are in attendance and more will arrive Thursday. Thursday night there will be a mock trial, which promises to be up-to-date in all particulars and furnish merriment to the interested public.

Election of officers will take place Friday. The usual recommendations of needed laws and reforms will be fully discussed and formulated to present at the next session of the legislature.

State College Examinations.

Covington, Ky., July 9.—The examination for applicants to the State college at Lexington will be held Saturday, July 18, at Independence. Kenton county is entitled to send three for the collegiate course and 12 for the normal course, one from each legislative district of the former, and four from each district in the normal course.

Finds Big Shortage.

Louisville, Ky., July 9.—The shortage of W. R. Logan, the absconding assignee of the Kentucky Citizens' Building and Loan association, will probably reach $50,000, according to W. G. Wetterer, of the Louisville Trust Co., who has charge of the investigation.

Hopple-South Wedding.

Frankfort, Ky., July 9.—The wedding of Miss Julia Woodson Hopple to Mr. Samuel F. South took place at the Episcopal church in this city at high noon Wednesday. The affair was the most notable of the season and was attended by a wide circle of friends.

Burglars in Grant County.

Williamstown, Ky., July 9.—Burglars raided a number of residences in this city, securing watches, jewelry and money. They visited the residence of Joe Horner, and finding nothing valuable within reach entered his cellar and drank all the fresh milk in sight.

Vetoed the Ordinance.

Newport, Ky., July 9.—Mayor Nelson returned to the general council with his veto the ordinance by which a sale of a franchise for the operation of five new street railway routes is contemplated. The mayor objects to double tracks on the streets.

Young Man Hanged Himself.

Falmouth, Ky., July 9.—Wm. Kidwell, aged 20, committed suicide by hanging with a plow line at the barn of his father, John Kidwell, four miles north of here. Ill health.

PROGRAM CHANGED

The Intention Was to Take the Slayer of Policeman Massey to Evansville.

WAS TO BE TRIED IMMEDIATELY.

In Deference to the Wishes of Gov. Durbin All Action in the Case Was Suspended.

A Venire of 50 Names Was Secretly Drawn Wednesday—The Court-house and Jail Is Still Being Guarded By Militia.

Evansville, Ind., July 9.—Acting under orders of Judge Barch, Sheriff Kratz Wednesday night left for Jeffersonville to bring back Lee Brown, the wounded Negro who killed Policeman Massey last Friday. It was this killing and the desire of the mob to lynch Brown that precipitated the rioting in Evansville.

How Sheriff Kratz will bring the Negro, and at what hour he will arrive in Evansville will be kept secret if possible. The sheriff took with him one deputy and Dr. Gilbert, who will try to keep Brown alive until he can be tried. If the Negro is successfully placed in the Evansville jail his trial for the killing of Patrolman Massey will be rushed through and, unless a change of venue is taken, the troops will be held until the trial is over. A venire of 50 names was secretly drawn Wednesday afternoon.

The courthouse and jail are still guarded night and day by the Martinsville and Evansville companies of militia.

There were five arrests Wednesday on grand jury indictments for the rioting Sunday night. Those under arrest are Richard Grosbeck, who was socialist candidate for clerk; A. P. Cardwell, a furniture merchant; J. T. Ziegler, William Trimble and James Steele. All were released under bond.

Coroner Hearing Evidence.

The coroner heard evidence Wednesday on the shooting of Monday night. He has not returned a verdict. There were no more deaths Wednesday. The three persons believed to be fatally shot are in about the same condition as Tuesday. There were two funerals of mob victims Wednesday afternoon. August Jordan and Hazel Allman were buried quietly. The Allman funeral was held a day sooner than announced in order to prevent excitement.

The police say that while many of those shot by the militia were reputable persons and no doubt drawn into the crowd from curiosity, two or three of those killed were disturbers and had caused the police trouble before. A revolver found on one of the dead bodies had three empty chambers that had been recently exploded.

A hardware firm, whose store was emptied of arms by the mob Wednesday afternoon, inserted an advertisement in local newspapers asking for the return of the pistols and ammunition taken on the night of July 5. If the arms are returned at once, no questions will be asked, but if the pistols are found, the persons will be prosecuted.

Louisville, Ky., July 9.—Late Wednesday night Jos. P. Byers, superintendent of the penitentiary at Jeffersonville, Ind., received a dispatch from Judge Rausch, of Evansville, saying that in deference to the wishes of Gov. Durbin in the matter all action in the Lee Brown case had been suspended for the present. It is therefore the understanding in Jeffersonville that Brown will not be taken to Evansville.

Troops To Be Sent Home.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 9.—It is probable that the troops at Evansville will be sent back home Thursday night unless excitement should be aroused by the inquest over the four victims of the Monday night's catastrophe. This inquest will be held Thursday. The tenth death from Monday night's shooting occurred Wednesday night in the person of John Barnett.

Old-Time Spelling Match.

Chautauqua, N. Y., July 9.—An old-time spelling match was held with Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York ranked against the world. Winners were H. C. Krebs, Summerville, N. J.; Margaret Young, Dallas, Tex., and Anna Jackson, Port Deposit, Md.

Gave Up the Fight.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 9.—The Carpenters' union gave up its fight for recognition of the union in the hiring of men and Wednesday night voted to return to work for all contractors who have granted the union wage scale and the eight-hour day.

Oseola, Ark., July 9.—Arthur Shaden, a prominent young planter living four miles south of Oseola, was shot and killed by a Negro tenant on his farm Wednesday morning.

BARNUM-BAILEY SHOW.

After Five Years Spent in Europe This Big Circus Is Now Touring America and Will Be Here in October.

After five years spent in an extensive tour of Europe embracing almost every country on the continent, including two years in England, the Barnum and Bailey greatest show on earth is once more on its native heath, and will be seen in Mayeville for the first time in many years Wednesday, October 7th. Contracts to this effect were closed only a couple of days ago. In its foreign tour the Barnum and Bailey Show undertook and accomplished what seemed to be an utter impossibility to all but that genius of the show world, James A. Bailey. The undertaking involved a tremendous risk in loss of property, and required a huge capital. Over $400,000 alone was spent in the transfer of the show property from New York to London, and other expenses between October 13, 1897, when the show closed in Philadelphia, and December 26th when it opened at the Olympia Building, London. The magnificence of the show, its huge size and perfect system of operation astounded and pleased the English people, and they accorded the circus a royal welcome everywhere. Its two years in England, each winter of which was spent in London, netted a profit of nearly two million dollars.

Mr. Bailey then sighed for more worlds to conquer, and crossed the North Sea to Germany, taking the entire show, including sixty-five sixty-foot railroad cars built on the American plan, the first train of its kind ever seen on the European continent. It required four large ocean steamers to transfer the show property with all its wagons, horses, cars, animals, over 700 people, &c., from England to Germany. After a season spent in Germany, the show visited several smaller countries, and then went to Vienna, Austria, where it exhibited in one of the finest buildings in Europe for the winter. In the spring an exhaustive tour of Austria and Hungary was made with several detours to some of the smaller countries. That winter the show went to Paris, France, exhibiting there all winter. In the spring a tour of France was made, lasting all summer, during which 176 towns in France were visited. This brought the time up to last fall, when, in October, four big Atlantic Transport Line steamers were chartered and the entire show was soon "homeward bound." Upon its arrival in New York, it immediately went into its winter quarters at Bridgeport, Conn., where during the past winter a fortune has been spent upon new equipment.

The show opened its American season in New York at the Madison Square Garden last March, and after a remarkable season of five weeks there, started on its travel on ninety-two cars—the largest show train by thirty cars in the world.

It is said of the show this year that nothing has ever approached it, for the immense size of its canvas spread, its many new and novel innovations, its perfect seating arrangement, and for the magnificence of its performance. There is hardly an act or a feature that has ever been seen in the country before, and there are over 200 distinct circus acts crowded into the two and one-half hours performance.

The parade is another feature that comes in for the most fulsome praise from the press of other cities. They all seem to agree that nothing has ever approached it in the world's history for the gorgeousness of its equipment, the costliness of its trappings, and the general character and tone of the entire display.

Nearly 700 people attended the union Sunday school picnic at Parks' Hill Wednesday. The special train of five coaches and baggage car were crowded, and in going up the Maysville hill the train was compelled to double trip to Summit, causing a delay of an hour or so. No accidents occurred to mar the pleasure of the outing. A sumptuous picnic dinner was enjoyed at noon in the shade of the grove—there was an abundance for all and for nearly as many more. The Red Men's Band furnished delightful music during the day. Capt. Taylor, who has charge of the camp, pronounced the crowd the nicest and best behaved of that size he had ever seen on the grounds. Before leaving on return trip, President John Duley was tendered a vote of thanks and the Chautauqua salute in recognition of his untiring services.

The excursion on the steamer Laurance to-morrow night, under auspices of the Ladies' Committee of the Y. M. C. A., will afford an opportunity for a delightful ride on the river. Tickets 15 cents. For sale at J. Jas. Wood & Son's drug store. Music.

STATE BALL GIVEN

Officers of American Squadron Entertained at Buckingham Palace by King Edward.

FIRST BALL SINCE HIS ACCESSION

Two Thousand Two Hundred Guests, Including President Loubet and Suite, Were Present.

His Majesty Had a Pleasant Word to Say to Each of the American Officers Presented to Him By Ambassador Choate.

London, July 9.—King Edward signally honored the officers of the American squadron Wednesday night at the state ball given at Buckingham palace—the climax of the visit of President Loubet. His majesty formally received Adm. Cotton, the captains of the American ships and 25 of the junior American officers, and Queen Alexandra later gave them the same distinction. The ball—the first since the accession of King Edward—was a brilliant function, 2,200 guests being present, including President Loubet and his suite, practically all the ambassadors and ministers in London, the majority of the members of the royal family, prominent representatives of the nobility and the officers of the American and French squadrons now in British waters.

Before the arrival of President Loubet, United States Ambassador Choate, with Secretary White attending, presented to his majesty the invited officers of the American squadron.

To Rr. Adm. Cotton the king expressed his gratification at the visit of the squadron and inquired if all arrangements had been made for the comfort of the American officers and sailors. Adm. Cotton replied that he had fallen among friends and every care had been taken of himself and the others. His majesty had a pleasant word to say to each of the officers presented.

Presented to Queen Alexandra.

The admiral, his captain and staff, Lieut. Mussey, were then presented to Queen Alexandra. During the supper several American officers were also introduced to the prince of Wales. Field Marshal Lord Roberts, Adm. Lord Chas. Beresford, Gen. Sir Redvers Buller and other distinguished Englishmen personally assisted at the welcome given the officers of the United States squadron. The scene was one of splendor which could not easily be surpassed. The gowns and uniforms were magnificent and the display of jewels wonderful.

The king and queen led the royal quadrille which opened the ball and in which participated President Loubet, the duchess of Devonshire and a number of distinguished guests. Before the ball Adm. Cotton, the American captains and staff Lieut. Mussey dined with the Earl Selbourne, first lord of the admiralty, at White Hall. The dinner was attended by naval officials, Lady Selbourne being the only woman present.

Adm. Cotton has been instructed to detach the Kearsarge from his squadron in order that she may arrive at Frenchmans Bay, Me., on July 27, when the naval maneuvers will begin. This action is regretted, as the Kearsarge is the feature of the naval representation in European waters and it will be impossible to carry out the prepared program in the manner desired. Adm. Cotton will shift his flag to the Chicago until the arrival of the Brooklyn.

It is announced that people of Louisville are planning to make a fight for the removal of the State Capital to that city. This question has prevented Kentucky from erecting a new State Capitol long enough, and it ought not receive any consideration whatever.

The Cynthiana Democrat has this timely hint to Allie Young and Judge Hargis:

Chairman Allie Young and Judge James Hargis ought to be able to see by this time that they are dragging upon the Democratic party and should withdraw from participating prominently in its management.

Our Republican friends, it seems, are having troubles of their own, judging from this dispatch sent out from Louisville:

August E. Willson claims that the local Republican committee gave him five officers for the ward conventions and Pratt three, while Belknap got seventy-one. He advises his followers not to bolt, but to take their troubles to the State convention.

A "HIGH AUTHORITY" in the Postoffice Department is cited as suggesting that—"By the time Congress convenes the disclosures of corruption in the postal service will be such that the results will occupy a considerable portion of the time of both houses, and make the memory of the famous star-route case pale into insignificance."

In this emergency what is the President doing? Has he removed the Postmaster General who characterized the charges as "hot air" and denounced the honest man who brought them as "a wind-bag"? No; he has simply ordered him not to talk.

Has he directed the suspension or removal of any of the officials under whose administration these frauds and abuses have occurred? Only one, and that tardily. Two of them have been allowed to resign and another has been given a leave of absence.

Has the President made any public declaration of his purpose to go to the top as well as to the bottom and to see that "no guilty man escapes"? No; he has repeated his tiresome talk of the need of a big navy to protect us in our "aggressive" foreign policy—concerning which the people of this country are both innocent and ignorant—but has, as the Washington Evening Post says, "kept silent when the enemies are of our own household."

If this policy of silence and looking for little scapegoats shall continue, the Democrats will need no other issue for the campaign of next year than that embodied in the war-cry that elected Tilden in 1876:

"TURN THE RASCALS OUT!"

THE WHEAT CROP.

If in Need of a PUMP,

We advise you to buy either the I. X. L. Patent Galvanized Steel Chain Curb and Galvanized Steel Tubing, or the Cypress Rubber Bucket. Both are good ones and we sell lots of them. The I. X. L., being constructed entirely of steel, costs a little more than the other kind, but the difference in price is more than made up in satisfactory service and long life. It always pays to buy the best of everything, and Pumps are no exception to the general rule.

Some Points of Superiority of the I. X. L.

It does not make the water taste as wood tubing does, and, being made of the very best galvanized steel, will not rust, rot or accumulate filth, and leaves the water clear and pure. It is anti-freezing, as a small hole in the reservoir allows the water to run out. Only weighs a half pound to the foot, while water-soaked wood tubing weighs six.

The boat is somewhat of an experiment on local rivers, and, if successful, others of the same type will follow. A City That Owns the Public Franchises.
[Portsmouth Tribune.]
Glasgow is to build a ship canal giving direct outlet north to the sea. It will cost $50,000,000, but will be worth it. Glasgow is one of the largest cities of the world that levies no tax on its citizens. All its expenses are paid by the leasing of public franchises. That such a city can embark on an enterprise requiring such an expenditure affords food for reflection.
The ladies of the Y. M. C. A. will give a boat ride Friday night, leaving at 7 o'clock. Tickets 15 cents.

ALL KINDS OF FIRE

With a good Gas Range you can cook your soup over a slow fire, which it needs, and your roast over a quick fire, and both at the same time. How can you do this any other way than with a GAS RANGE?

Gas Ranges At Factory Cost Price!

Never was such another opportunity afforded you to obtain so much value for the same money. During the month of June the Gas Company will, if so desired, make a written agreement with any purchaser of a Gas Range to the effect, that, if on the first day of August, said purchaser shall have become dissatisfied with the use of their Range, either for the reason that it will not do the work as represented, or that it costs too much to operate, then the Gas Company will take back the stove and refund any money paid upon its purchase price. The only thing to prevent you taking advantage of this offer is that the Ranges are sold quicker than they can be connected up, so if you are thinking of buying one, now is the time to decide. Over twenty installed during May and not a single complaint. For further particulars see the Gas Company and sample Ranges at Langfals & Co.'s.
